

UNIVERSITY MASTER'S DEGREE IN
Entrepreneurial Financing:
Venture Capital and Private Equity

Within the current macroeconomic climate, given the lack of existing credit, venture capital and private equity have become increasingly popular funding alternatives for companies in their own right.

Barcelona shines in this regard, as it is home to numerous organisations that specialise in venture capital, private equity and corporate finance, which provide support for and fund the development of new companies. The city is somehow looked at in the same way Silicon Valley was in the United States at one time.
